

VIII Palmela International Saxophone Festival 2021

Good Practice Manual for Video Recording

Due to the current global situation, this year's edition of FISP will be almost entirely digital, so it was necessary to create this Good Practice Manual for recording videos to be submitted to the Festival's program in order to standardize all the content.

Thus:

- All videos will have to be recorded in the horizontal format, regardless of the recording device (mobile phone, camera, webcam).
- Videos must be recorded with a minimum quality of 720p corresponding to 1280 x 720 pixels. (ideally 1080p, 1920 x 1080).
- The framing of the shot should be adequate to the content of the video. The video can have a single fixed shot or alternate between different framing options (wide shots, close shots and group shots), where the instrument(s) should always be present (if applicable).
- In the case of recording group content, as a minimum requirement the shot must ensure that all the elements of the group are in frame.
- Minimum intelligible audio quality must be ensured with the lowest background noise possible.
- Submitted videos must not have any type of caption, footer or watermark.

We thank the cooperation of every participant in fulfilling these recommendations so that we can achieve the best possible quality on this edition of our Palmela International Saxophone Festival.

FISP Production Team